NEW QUESTION: 1

Which of the following components of Microsoft Access 2010 allows you to add icons that operate as shortcuts to command buttons on all ribbons and galleries?

- A. Context Menu
- B. Navigation Pane
- C. Record Scrollbar
- D. Quick Access Toolbar

Answer: D

Explanation:

Quick Access Toolbar allows you to add icons that operate as shortcuts to command buttons on all ribbons and galleries. The Quick Access Toolbar in MS Access 2010 is a customizable toolbar which is displayed in the title bar of the Database window. It has a set of commands or functions (save, undo/redo, and print) that are independent of the tab on the ribbon currently displayed in MS Access. The Quick Access Toolbar can be moved from one of the two possible locations. A user can add any Access command as a button to the Quick Access Toolbar.

Answer A is incorrect. Context Menu offers options that depend on a specific button or object type.

Answer D is incorrect. The Navigation Pane is displayed on the left side in a new or existing database. The pane contains different database objects such as tables, queries, forms, reports, macros, etc. The database can be opened through the pane in different modes such as datasheet view, design view, and layout view. A user can use the navigation Pane to show or hide the database objects.

Answer B is incorrect. Record Scrollbar scrolls table records or query rows.

NEW QUESTION: 2

A reference monitor is a system component that enforces access controls on an object.

Specifically, the reference monitor concept is an abstract machine that mediates all access of subjects to objects. The hardware, firmware, and software elements of a trusted computing base that implement the reference monitor concept are called:

- A. The security kernel
- B. The auditing subsystem
- C. The authorization database
- D. Identification and authentication (I & A) mechanisms

Answer: A

Explanation:

The security kernel implements the reference model concept. The reference model must have the following characteristics:

It must mediate all accesses.

It must be protected from modification.

It must be verifiable as correct.

Answer "the authorization database" is used by the reference monitor to mediate accesses by subjects to objects. When a request for access is received, the reference monitor refers to entries in the authorization database to verify that the operation requested by a subject for application to an object is permitted. The authorization database has entries or authorizations of the form subject, object, access mode. In answer "Identification and authentication (I & A) mechanisms", the I & A operation is separate from the reference monitor. The user enters his/her identification to the I & A function. Then the user must be authenticated. Authentication is verification that the user's claimed identity is valid. Authentication is based on the following three factor types:

Type 1. Something you know, such as a PIN or password

Type 2. Something you have, such as an ATM card or smart card

Type 3. Something you are (physically), such as a fingerprint or retina scan

Answer "The auditing subsystem" is a key complement to the reference monitor. The auditing subsystem is used by the reference monitor to keep track of the reference monitor's activities. Examples of such activities include the date and time of an access request, identification of the subject and objects involved, the access privileges requested and the result of the request.

NEW QUESTION: 3

A company is creating a centralized logging service running on Amazon EC2 that will receive and analyze logs from hundreds of AWS accounts. AWS PrivateLink is being used to provide connectivity between the client services and the logging service.

In each AWS account with a client an interface endpoint has been created for the logging service and is available. The logging service running on EC2 instances with a Network Load Balancer (NLB) are deployed in different subnets. The clients are unable to submit logs using the VPC endpoint.

Which combination of steps should a solutions architect take to resolve this issue? (Select TWO)

- A. Check the security group for the logging service running on the EC2 instances to ensure it allows ingress from the NLB subnets.
- B. Check the security group for the NLB to ensure it allows ingress from the interface endpoint subnets
- C. Check that the NACL is attached to the logging service subnet to allow communications to and from the NLB subnets Check that the NACL is attached to the NLB subnet to allow communications to and from the logging service subnets running on EC2 instances.
- D. Check that the NACL is attached to the logging service subnets to allow communications to and from the interface endpoint subnets Check that the NACL is attached to the interface endpoint subnet to allow communications to and from the logging service subnets running on EC2 instances.

E. Check the security group for the logging service running on EC2 instances to ensure it allows ingress from the clients

Answer: B,E
