NEW QUESTION: 1

Select the two statements that correctly describe the operation of NWAM.

- A. If the DefaultFixed NCP is enabled, persistent configuration, stored in /etc/ipadm.conf and /etc/dladm/ datalink.conf is used.
- B. If a location is explicitly enabled, it remains active until explicitly changed.
- C. NWAM stores profile information in /etc/ipadm/ipadm.conf and /etc/dladm/datalink.conf.
- D. Wireless security keys can be configured by using the nwammgr command.
- E. Interface NCU Properties "float" and are automatically attached to the highest priority Link NCU Property.
- F. Multiple locations may be automatically activated in systems with multiple network interface cards.

Answer: B,F

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

A: Conditional and system locations can be manually activated, which means that the location remains active until explicitly disabled.

D: A location comprises certain elements of a network configuration, for example a name service and firewall settings, that are applied together, when required. You can create multiple locations for various uses. For example, one location can be used when you are connected at the office by using the company intranet. Another location can be used at home when you are connected to the public Internet by using a wireless access point. Locations can be activated manually or automatically, according to environmental conditions, such as the IP address that is obtained by a network connection.

Incorrect answers:

Note: The Network Auto-Magic (NWAM) feature simplifies basic network configuration by automatically addressing basic Ethernet and WiFi configurations, such as connecting to your wired or wireless network at startup and displaying notifications about the status of your currently active network connection from the desktop. NWAM is also designed to simplify some of the more complex networking tasks, such as the creation and management of system-wide network profiles, for example, the configuration of name services, IP Filter and IP Security (IPsec).
