NEW QUESTION: 1

During which phase of the cloud data lifecycle is it possible for the classification of data to change?

- A. Use
- B. Share
- C. Create
- D. Archive

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation

The create phase encompasses any time data is created, imported, or modified. With any change in the content or value of data, the classification may also change. It must be continually reevaluated to ensure proper security. During the use, share, and archive phases, the data is not modified in any way, so the original classification is still relevant.
