- A. The completion of a project activity that is crucial to project completion
- B. A goal of reaching a significant delivery of project benefits by an identified date
- C. A significant point in the project
- D. An imposed date for the project to reach a given point

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

A milestone is simply a significant point or event in the project. It does not have to be assigned to a specific date, but is usually assigned to the completion of project phases. A milestone is the end of a stage that marks the completion of a work package or phase, typically marked by a high level event such as completion, endorsement or signing of a deliverable, document or a high level review meeting. In addition to signaling the completion of a key deliverable, a milestone may also signify an important decision or the derivation of a critical piece of information, which outlines or affects the future of a project. In this sense, a milestone not only signifies distance traveled (key stages in a project) but also indicates direction of travel since key decisions made at milestones may alter the route through the project plan. To create a milestone, enter 0 (zero) in the Duration field. The task will automatically be classified as a milestone.

Incorrect Answers:

B: A project goal is an objective for time, cost, scope, and other metrics.

C: This is a project constraint.

D: All activities must be completed in order to complete the project work. Activities that are not completed are quality issues that prevent the project from completing the project scope.
