NEW QUESTION: 1

Which two statements are true about an EPL? (Choose two.)

- A. It is a point-to-point Ethernet connection between a pair of UNIs.
- B. The EPL service is also referred to as an E-line.
- C. It allows for service multiplexing.
- D. It has a high degree of transparency.

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

Ethernet private line (EPL) and Ethernet virtual private line (EVPL) are carrier Ethernet data services defined by the

Metro Ethernet Forum. EPL provides a point-to-point Ethernet virtual connection (EVC) between a pair of dedicated user-network interfaces (UNIs), with a high degree of transparency. EVPL provides a point-to-point or point-to-multipoint connection between a pair of UNIs.

The services are categorized as an E-Line service type, with an expectation of low frame delay, frame delay variation and frame loss ratio. EPL is implemented using a point-to-point (EVC) with no Service Multiplexing at each UNI

(physical interface), i.e., all service frames at the UNI are mapped to a single EVC (a.k.a. all-to-one bundling).

NEW QUESTION: 2

As the operations administrator for your company's Oracle Cloud Infrastructure (OCI), you have been entrusted the task of ensuring that data being accessed by the application is encrypted. Your application portfolio includes both Virtual Machine (VM) and Bare Metal (BM) database systems.

Which method should you use to achieve encryption of data in-transit?

- A. Data is encrypted at rest using TDE and no additional encryption is needed
- B. Native Oracle Net Services encryption and integrity capabilities
- C. Key Store/Wallet service for on the fly encryption of data in transit
- D. Configure backup encryption for RMAN backup sets before transferring data

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation

In Oracle Database Cloud Service databases, data security is provided for data in transit and data at rest.

Security of data in transit is achieved through network encryption. Security of data at rest is achieved through encryption of data stored in database data files and backups.

To secure connections to your Oracle Database Cloud Service databases, you can use native Oracle Net Services encryption and integrity capabilities.

Encryption of network data provides data privacy so that unauthorized parties are not able to view data as it passes over the network. In addition, integrity algorithms protect against data modification and illegitimate replay.
