NEW QUESTION: 1

Which of the following controls most likely would be effective in offsetting the tendency of sales personnel to maximize sales volume at the expense of high bad debt write-offs?

A. Shipping documents and sales invoices are matched by an employee who does not have authority to write off bad debts.

B. Employees responsible for authorizing sales and bad debt write-offs are denied access to cash.

C. Subsidiary accounts receivable records are reconciled to the control account by an employee independent of the authorization of credit.

D. Employees involved in the credit-granting function are separated from the sales function.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

Choice "C" is correct. Sales personnel will have a tendency to maximize sales volume by selling to customers that may not be creditworthy, thereby resulting in high bad debt write-offs. To prevent sales to customers that may not be creditworthy, employees involved in the credit-granting function are separated from the sales function.

Choice "A" is incorrect. Employees responsible for authorizing sales and bad debt write-offs should be denied access to cash to prevent the embezzlement of cash, not to prevent them from maximizing sales volume at the expense of high bad debt write-offs.

Choice "B" is incorrect. This control does not affect the sales department or the tendency to maximize sales volume at the expense of high bad debt write-offs.

Choice "D" is incorrect. This control does not affect the sales department or the tendency to maximize sales volume at the expense of high bad debt write-offs.
