Explanation:

NetFlow traditionally enables several key customer applications including:

Network Monitoring-NetFlow data enables extensive near real time network monitoring capabilities.

Flow-based analysis techniques may be utilized to visualize traffic patterns associated with individual routers and switches as well as on a network-wide basis (providing aggregate traffic or application based views) to provide proactive problem detection, efficient troubleshooting, and rapid problem resolution.

Application Monitoring and Profiling-NetFlow data enables network managers to gain a detailed, time- based, view of application usage over the network. This information is used to plan, understand new services, and allocate network and application resources (e.g. Web server sizing and VoIP deployment) to responsively meet customer demands.

User Monitoring and Profiling-NetFlow data enables network engineers to gain detailed understanding of customer/user utilization of network and application resources. This information may then be utilized to efficiently plan and allocate access, backbone and application resources as well as to detect and resolve potential security and policy violations.

Network Planning-NetFlow can be used to capture data over a long period of time producing the opportunity to track and anticipate network growth and plan upgrades to increase the number of routing devices, ports, or higher- bandwidth interfaces. NetFlow services data optimizes network planning including peering, backbone upgrade planning, and routing policy planning. NetFlow helps to minimize the total cost of network operations while maximizing network performance, capacity, and reliability. NetFlow detects unwanted WAN traffic, validates bandwidth and Quality of Service (QOS) and allows the analysis of new network applications. NetFlow will give you valuable information to reduce the cost of operating your network.

Security Analysis-NetFlow identifies and classifies DDOS attacks, viruses and worms in real-time.

Changes in network behavior indicate anomalies that are clearly demonstrated in NetFlow data. The data is also a valuable forensic tool to understand and replay the history of security incidents.

Accounting/Billing-NetFlow data provides fine-grained metering (e.g. flow data includes details such as IP addresses, packet and byte counts, timestamps, type-of-service and application ports, etc.) for highly flexible and detailed resource utilization accounting. Service providers may utilize the information for billing based on time-of-day, bandwidth usage, application usage, quality of service, etc. Enterprise customers may utilize the information for departmental charge-back or cost allocation for resource utilization.

NetFlow Data Warehousing and Data Mining-NetFlow data (or derived information) can be warehoused for later retrieval and analysis in support of proactive marketing and customer service programs (e.g. figure out which applications and services are being utilized by internal and external users and target them for improved service, advertising, etc.). In addition, NetFlow data gives Market Researchers access to the "who", "what", "where", and "how long" information relevant to enterprises and service providers.

NEW QUESTION: 3

Your network contains an Active Directory domain named contoso.com. The domain contains three servers. The servers are configured as shown in the following table.

You need to ensure that end-to-end encryption is used between clients and Server2 when the clients connect to the network by using DirectAccess.

Which two actions should you perform? (Each correct answer presents part of the solution. Choose two.)

- A. From the Remote Access Management Console, reload the configuration.
- B. Add Server2 to a security group in Active Directory.
- C. From the Remote Access Management Console, modify the Application Servers settings.
- D. Restart the IPsec Policy Agent service on Server2.
- E. From the Remote Access Management Console, modify the Infrastructure Servers settings.

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

Unsure about these answers: A public key infrastructure must be deployed. Windows Firewall must be enabled on all profiles. ISATAP in the corporate network is not supported. If you are using ISATAP, you should remove it and use native IPv6. Computers that are running the following operating systems are supported as DirectAccess clients:

Windows [\[email protected\]](#) 2012 R2 Windows 8.1 Enterprise Windows

[\[email protected\]](#) 2012

Windows 8 Enterprise Windows [\[email protected\]](#) 2008 R2 Windows 7 Ultimate Windows 7 Enterprise

- Force tunnel configuration is not supported with KerbProxy authentication. - Changing policies by using a feature other than the DirectAccess management console or Windows PowerShell cmdlets is not supported. - Separating NAT64/DNS64 and IPHTTPS server roles on another server is not supported.
