Which of the following would you NOT expect to see on an incident report from test execution?

- A. The test execution schedule
- B. Expected results and actual results
- C. Precise steps to reproduce the problem
- D. The version(s) of the software under test

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION: 2

You are developing an application that uses many small images.

When the images load, the application runs slowly.

You need to improve the performance of the application.

What should you do?

- A. Host all images on a Microsoft Azure web role with multiple instances.
- B. Combine all the images into a single image and use CSS to create sprites.
- C. Preload all the images when the application starts to ensure that the images are cached.
- D. Convert the images to ICO file format and stream all images on a single connection.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Because browsers limit how many concurrent HTTP requests they make to a website, a web page with many small icon images can result in a longer load time. You can combine many small images into a single larger image - a CSS sprite - using the free ASP.NET

Sprite and Image Optimization Library available from Microsoft.
