Case study

Background

Humongous Insurance currently employs 7,500 people and is based in the United States. The company has 4,000 users in its main office in Chicago. It also has two branch offices, one in New York with 2,000 users and the other in Los Angeles with 1,500 users. The company has 30 executives located across the offices.

The company has just completed a migration from Lync Server 2010 to Skype for Business Server 2015.

Humongous Insurance is federated with Trey Research Corporation which uses a third-party IM solution.

Users at both companies need to communicate with each other by using their respective IM client.

Humongous is in discussion to acquire the Southridge Video company. Southridge Video has 2,000 users in two sites.

Employees of Humongous Insurance use a variety of mobile devices, including Windows Phones and iOS phones. All iOS phone users must be notified of events, such as new or missed IM invitations and voice mail messages, even when they are using the corporate wireless network.

Employees of Humongous Insurance use various operating systems, including Windows XP, Windows Vista, Windows Vista Enterprise, Windows 7 Enterprise, and Windows 8. All users are enabled for Enterprise Voice, and many have Skype for Business Phone Edition. Many of the employees of Humongous Insurance work from home and sign in securely to the corporate environment in order to use Skype for Business.

Audio bandwidth between the Los Angeles and New York offices is limited.

Planned changes

The company plans to increase the use of audio and video (A/V) conferencing to reduce travel costs.

Employees have been asked to use A/V, telephony, and instant messaging (IM) conferencing solutions whenever possible for communication with clients and users in the branch offices. All public switched telephone network (PSTN) traffic will use the G.711 codec. All voice use the RTAudio Wideband codec. All peer-to-peer (P2P) video sessions will support H.264 and RTVideo codecs.

The company plans to continuously analyze the network to identify potential network delay points and the availability of adequate bandwidth to meet current requirements and anticipated growth. The company plans to continuously analyze the Skype for Business Server 2015 servers for performance metrics.

All users at Humongous Insurance will be Skype for Business enabled.

Challenges

All users report poor audio and video quality. Calls are dropped or suffer from jitter and lag. These issues exist when users are using Skype for Business client or Skype for Business Phone Edition.

Humongous Insurance users currently are unable to IM with external clients that use different IM programs.

Currently there is no network oversight for Skype for Business communications. Humongous Insurance does not have a defined remote user access policy.

Existing Environment

The three offices are connected to one another as shown in the following network diagram:

The concurrent communication modalities usage of the three offices is shown in the following table:

Humongous Insurance expects to see the number of video users increase by as much as 10 percent. The company expects to see the number of voice users increase by as much as 15 percent.

Quality of Service

Quality of Service (QoS) is configured as follows:

The Skype for Business Server 2015 media configuration matches the port settings used on the network.

The company uses synthetic transactions to perform call and voice tests.

Additional information about the existing environment is shown in the Supporting Information section/ Business Requirements You identify the following requirements related to bandwidth and capacity:

Network capacity must meet current infrastructure capacity requirements for audio and video usage, as well as meet the anticipated increases.

You must ensure that the volume of Skype for Business traffic does not exceed 50 percent of WAN bandwidth.

The recommended design solution needs to eliminate the possibility of WAN oversubscription by Skype for Business traffic.

The proposed solution must provide scalability to accommodate the company's future acquisition of Trey Research.

The proposed solution must be readily available for users in all three sites.

You identify the following additional business requirements:

All existing issues relating to the poor quality of calls and conferencing must be addressed.

All employees must be able to use video conferencing. Employees will be limited to VGA video quality.

Company executives will not have these limitations.

Quality of Service (QoS) ports must be unique for audio and video traffic.

Humongous Insurance wants to use only dedicated computers to monitor the network and perform synthetic transactions to limit the load on the computers.

IM users must be able to IM with users who are using other IM programs.

You identify the following requirements related to remote access and external connectivity:

The company wants to allow only authorized employees to connect remotely.

All remote users will use a secure method when remotely connecting to the network and the Skype for Business environment.

You must minimize the number of open and listening ports

You identify the following constraints:

All maintenance and tests of network policies must be done outside of normal business hours.

You must not increase the bandwidth between sites.

You must increase the quality of voice and video traffic.

You must reduce the number of dropped calls

You identify the following requirements related to updates and notifications:

The corporate information technology (IT) must be able to push updates and scan users' computers when they are connected remotely.

All push notifications must be able to be sent mobile clients on all supported cell phone manufacturers.

Many users do not use Windows mobile phones.

You must use the Skype for Business Server 2015 Bandwidth Calculator to analyze Skype for Business traffic.
